Sadly, this perhaps means we will hear much less from you. Even though that is a very good thing, Randy and I have been most grateful for your guidance and your friendship. It has been such an awful life experience and certainly is not over for us yet. We will continue to try to focus on the good that has come from it and we are thankful for the people put in our lives and the lessons we have learned because of it. Charlie did us a very great favor by leading us your way, I am certain we would not have found such a classy, intelligent, calm, capable, unfeathered warrior whose beautiful wife is equally as capable in battle on her own. In addition, Randy and I would like to thank you for the expertise of Jay and Aimee. We always knew we had the best advise available on all counts. Thanks again, Kathy
